

Q Julia Bishop (researcher)
Q2 Alex Hetherington (researcher)
A Serena (mum)
B Kawsu (dad)
C Mallison (6)
D Essa (4)

Aand Mallison had got a little bit upset. But I can't remember why he was upset – whether because they were the comments that they were saying because he'd not seen it, I don't know.

Q Do you think it was, I was going to say was it that he was left out because he hadn't seen it, rather than anything about the content of it.

A Mallison, do you remember, were you a bit upset because you'd not seen it and everybody else was talking about it?

C Don't think so.

A I can't remember exactly.

Q No, don't worry.

A But I just remember him being a bit upset about it, and he's just saying it's something on the internet that shouldn't be there that's upsetting children and until it gets sorted you're not allowed on it. And he said....he weren't right happy about it but he's accepted it.

C Because I wanted to watch it, be a naughty boy.

D Just watch it. Any time she doesn't want you to watch it, just put it on and watch it.

C Oooh. Kids at school were talking about it, and then they had....if you were like told they could watch it and I couldn't watch it.

A So that's what had upset you?

C Yeah.

Q OK, that's interesting.

C Yeah, and it asked questions. I know YouTube, mum, we can't accept for some subscribing at all actually, so if we tried to, we can't. So actually you should have let me go on YouTube.

Q But you do go on YouTube don't you, Mallison?

C Yeah.

A That's now, but that was then and it weren't very often.
